Dated 21st April 1951.

No. D. 354. Intimation has been received from the Chief Controller of Exports, that the position regarding export of groundnut and groundnut oil has been further reviewed by the Government of India and that it has been decided to allow exports in the following manner:—

(a) Exports of groundnuts to Switzerland may continue to be allowed, as hitherto, against registrations already made for shipment upto June, 1951. Suitable extensions of shipment period may also be granted in cases where shipment could not be made within the original registration period by the shippers concerned for good and valid reasons.

(b) Export of groundnut oil and H.P.S. groundnuts to Canada may be allowed upto 60 per cent of the sales registered for shipment during the months of March to June, 1951.

(c) Export of groundnut oil to the United Kingdom may be allowed upto 30 per cent of the sales registered for shipment during March—June, 1951.

(d) Exports to destinations other than those mentioned above, may be allowed upto 25 per cent of the sales registered for shipment during March to June, 1951.

(e) Shipment of groundnut oil to Itally should hereafter be allowed only upto 25 per cent of the quantity outstanding against sales registered for shipment during March–June, 1951. No shipment of groundnut oil to Italy should also be allowed against sales registered for shipment before March, 1951.

2. Where the shipment period of any sale is a period of more than one month, the quantity due for shipment during each month should, for the purposes of these orders, be arrived at by dividing the total quantity of the sale by the number of months comprised in the shipment period (even though in terms of the sale contract the shipper could ship the entire quantity of the sale in any one month). For example, a sale of 600 tons has been registered, say, for shipment during January–March, 1951; the quantity due for shipment in March should be computed as 200 tons (600 ÷ 3).

3. As the month of March is just expiring, an extension by one month may be allowed in the case of sales valid for shipment during March, 1951.

INDIAN POSTS AND TELEGRAPHS DEPARTMENT.

Memo No. T-93—49, New Delhi, March 31st, 1951.

With effect from 1st April, 1951, any double or intermediate routing instruction on foreign telegrams will not be recognised by this Department. The International Telegraph Regulations do not confer any right on the sender to specify double, intermediate or part routings and as the only foreign telegraph routes available from India are either the Cable-routes or the wireless routes worked by the Overseas Communications Service the sender of a foreign telegram will have the choice of specifying either the "CABLE" or "WIRELESS" route and the following routing instructions only will be recognised in that connection :—

If the sender desires to send his telegram by the Cable route ... ... "Via OCS—FIL".
If the sender desires to send his telegram by the Wireless route ... ... "Via OCS—ANTEN"
All concerned may kindly be instructed accordingly.

(Sd.) B. Sivananda Rau,
Controller of Telegraph Traffic.
